Pronouns and Why They Matter

You may have noticed that a few of the staff and elders here at Trinity have begun listing their pronouns in the signature line of our emails. Why is that? Let's talk about pronouns and why they matter.

Those of us who have cisgender privilege (the prefix "cis" means same, cisgender means you comfortably identify with the gender assigned to you at birth), take it for granted that people see us and assume to know our pronouns and we are completely okay with that. But many people who are trans or non-binary (meaning they do not associate their own gender with either of the two "poles": male (he/him/his) or female (she/her/hers) find that they must go to the extra step of making their pronouns known to others in order to be "seen."

To get to the next step, beyond simply welcoming our trans and non-binary friends and neighbors into our church home, we can help normalize the space for people to share their pronouns. You can introduce yourself first, and include your own pronouns (whether you think it should be obvious or not): "Hi, my name is Diana and my pronouns are she/her/hers." From a terrific article on mypronouns.org:

Sharing your pronouns is a great idea, but it isn't requisite. Keep in mind, however, that there is a privilege of appearing in a way that fits both your gender and the pronouns that many people associate with your gender. In other words, if people's assumptions are correct, never having to name those assumptions begins to normalize the very process of making assumptions (which for others may be incorrect). Thus, sharing pronouns is a great way to disrupt the normalization and privilege of assumption.

Also, it's important to remember that many folk don't use the "typical" she/her/hers or he/him/his pronouns. If you aren't sure (even if you THINK you are sure without asking) go with the singular "they/them." Even as a grammar geek and a professional proofreader, I've gotten on board with this and you can too! Start adding your pronouns to your own email signature and include them when you introduce yourself. Let's show the world that Trinity members can go Beyond Welcome and live into our values and mission statement.

Blessings for the week ahead,
Diana Coe

Trinity Happenings

Presbyterian Women's Circle Birthday Offering

Don't forget that this group is taking donations for the 100+ Birthday Offering to benefit several worthy national projects. Special envelopes are located in the pews throughout the month. You can see more detailed information in last week's newsletter, located on our website.

15 Years of Scholarships at Trinity

Did you know that since 2003, the Trinity Educational Fund has disbursed over $54,000 to 19 individuals in support of their educational goals?

Approximately 2/3 of the total funds have come from contributions made by anonymous donors! And this year, for the first time, 20% of your contributions will be shared with the Winston-Salem Minister's Conference MLK Scholarship Fund. This is a concrete way we can live out the Black Lives Matter Resolution that we have adopted.

Trinity has a limited amount of funds in a Scholarship Fund, used to provide financial assistance for church members planning to attend community/technical school, college, or graduate school. It is funded by contributions from church friends and members, and from Trinity when budget permits. Applications with instructions for the 2019-2020 academic year are available in the narthex or by calling the church office. The deadline for submissions is June 1, 2019. If you have any questions or need additional information, please speak with Laura Spedding, Ann Williams, Beth Harper, or Cindy Bodenheimer.

Contributions to this fund are needed so that we can make meaningful gifts to Trinity Members and to the Minister's Conference this year. Make your check payable to Trinity and note "Scholarship Fund" on the memo line. Thank you!

Mother's Day / Father's Day Cards

So far $140 has been raised for Family Services of Forsyth County from the sale of Mother's Day / Father's Day cards. There will be more cards available on June 2 for Father's Day for a minimum $5 contribution.

Many thanks go to the children of the church and Brenda Daniels for making the beautiful cards!

Jon on Vacation

Please remember that Jon Gaska is on vacation this week. Rev. Liam M. Hooper will be the guest pastor on Sunday, which will also be children-led, and string-led.

Office Closed Monday

In observance of Memorial Day, the office will be closed Monday, May 27.

Bolton School Field Trips

Students at Bolton School were able to go on field trips this school year thanks in part to donations from Trinity's Hunger Offerings. A note from the school states: "We are always very grateful for the generous donation for our field trips. This donation helps to lift the financial burden off of many of our families that simply do not have the financial means to pay for field trips." This year students have gone on the following trips: North Carolina Zoo, Industries for the Blind, Greensboro Natural Science Center, Countryside Bowling Alley, Kaleideum North, J. Razz and Tazz Farm, All-A-Flutter Butterfly Farm, Millstone Creek Orchards, Bethabara Park, and Millis Regional Health Center.

Bolton Food Pantry

Bolton Food Pantry Celebrates One Year of Operation and Welcomes a New Intern The Bolton School Food Pantry celebrated one year of operation with a volunteer potluck on May 7. Since opening, the pantry has served an average of 42 families per month. Approximately ten Trinity volunteers participate to help make the Pantry possible. Funding has been provided for another year of operation as we welcome a new intern who will be overseeing the operation.

Barbara "Bobbie" Rogers is a rising second year divinity student at Wake Forest School of Divinity and North Carolina native by way of Laurinburg & Fayetteville. She completed her undergraduate studies at Howard University and went on to serve as a Global Mission Fellow to The General Board of Global Ministries of The United Methodist Church. As a global mission fellow she was assigned to Moscow Protestant Chaplaincy in Moscow, Russia, where she served the low income migrant and refugee community there. Following her Masters, she aspires to work in college chaplaincy or religious life. Bobbie is thrilled to be joining the Bolton Food Pantry team and looks forward to meeting & working with the amazing volunteers involved.

Call to Action

Horticultural Therapy Program and Community Garden

Each session includes a bilingual (English/Spanish) lesson on horticulture or art, and a family workday in the garden. A registered Horticultural Therapist will work with children individually or in small groups while families tend the garden. The entire family can participate and we welcome all children, with or without disabilities. Each family will be asked to take turns watering and maintaining the garden, and will receive part of the harvest of vegetables. This is a pilot program with the possibility of continuation based on interest. For more information and to register, please contact Gloria Haley at ghaleyart@yahoo.com or 336-814-7080, or Megan Gregory at gregormm@forsyth.cc or 336-705-8823.
